

5 Coal Mining Companies Sue Lewis, UMW For 8 Millions

Cambridge, O., Jan. 6 (P)—Five Ohio coal mining companies today filed five suits in Common Pleas Court asking nearly $8,000,000 damages from John L. Lewis and other United Mine Workers Union leaders individually, and the union treasury.

The same companies filed companion suits against the members of the union asking court injunctions to bar them from abiding by Lewis' three-day work week.

Filing the suits were the Pittsburgh Consolidated Coal company, the Warner Coaleries company, the Y. and O. Coal company, the Jefferson Coal company, and the Cadiz Mining company, all of eastern Ohio.

Other Suits To Follow
The firms asked damages on the basis of tonnage lost by various mine strikes and work stoppages. They estimated the loss in 1949 at 7,000,000 tons.

The suits were filed under Ohio's Valentine Act, which prohibits restraint of trade.

Six similar suits are expected to be filed later today in Franklin county (Columbus) Common Pleas Court by the New York Coal company, the Lorain Coal and Dock company and the Powhatan Mining company, all Hocking valley operations. The Columbus suits, said coal operators, will raise the damages asked to a total of $10,000,000.

Cite Damage List
The damage suits are directed not only against Lewis, but against John Owens, UMW secretary-treasurer; Thomas Kennedy, UMW vice president, and other UMW officers.

In the suits asking damages, the coal operators said strikes and work stoppages ordered by Lewis cost miners $11,600,000 in lost wages, an average of $1,300 a miner. The welfare fund also lost $2,450,000, the mine operators said.

The injunction suits asked the court to prohibit union members from obeying the "dictatorial" mandates of their leaders in following the current three-day work week.

Ohio's Valentine Act is more than a score of years old. It, in effect, is a state-wide anti-trust act. Its sections under which damages are asked prohibit restraint of Ohio commerce, reduction of production, fixing of prices and abridgment of competition. It has not been evoked for many years.

The operators said they based their suits upon the actions by Lewis and other top UMW officials arbitrarily restricting most mines to a three-day, two-day or no-day week, and allowing a few to operate full time.

RURAL CARRIERS ELECT MONDAY

The Adams county branch of the National Rural Letter Carriers association will elect officers Monday evening at a quarterly meeting to be held at 8 o'clock in the YWCA, President Guy E. Brown, Fairfield, announced today.

Discussion of the longevity bill passed by the last Congress will be a feature of the meeting.

President Brown also announced that the members of the association wish to thank all patrons who had their Christmas mail stamped and neatly faced and tied into small packets for the carriers. The cooperation of the people along the routes helped the rural carriers to speed their work and more nearly maintain schedules, Brown said. He added that the post office now insists that all patrons buy their stamps in advance and pre-stamp all first and third class mail. Carriers have a supply of stamps that can be purchased from them.

A meeting of the Auxiliary will also be held Monday evening at the YWCA at the same time as the Rural Carriers' meeting.

Local Club To Hear Dr. Raymond Young

Dr. Raymond Young of the Economics department of Gettysburg college will be the speaker at the first meeting of the new year of the Woman's club of Gettysburg next Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the YWCA.

His subject will be "The United States Supreme Court—Yesterday and Today." He will discuss personalities.

Mrs. Donald P. McPherson, Jr., legislation chairman, will be in charge of the program.

The club will also observe the 150th anniversary of Adams county at the meeting. Special music will be offered during the program.

"LAST-MINUTE" SIMMONS PLEA REJECTED BY PARDON BOARD

The State Pardon board in Harrisburg rejected today last minute appeals to prevent the execution of two convicted slayers early Monday morning at Rockview State prison, the Associated Press reported.

The board refused application for a re-hearing of pleas for commutation of the death sentence to life imprisonment of Ray H. Simmons, 26, of Adams county, and Edward Dipofi, 24, of Allegheny county.

The board and Gov. James H. Duff earlier this month denied commutation of sentence to the two men after hearings before the pardon board.

Simmons was convicted of the robbery-slaying of Herbert Humpert, 70, a retired farmer, on March 24, 1947, on his farm near Gardner. Robert L. Staley, 26, was sentenced to life imprisonment in the same case. Staley later made a statement in which he said Simmons was "too drunk" at the time of the killing to know what was going on.

Issue Statement
Dipofi was convicted in the slaying of Policeman Joseph Chelinski in Bethel township, Allegheny county, on March 5, 1948. The policeman was slain after Dipofi and two companions were arrested in the robbery of an unoccupied home in the township.

The board issued this statement in rejecting the last-minute pleas: "A petition for re-consideration or re-hearing of the application of Ray Simmons for commutation of sentence was filed with the board of pardons, the prayer of which was that the board cause an investigation to be made either by the board or by the department of justice, of statements made by Robert Staley, the applicant's accomplice, subsequent to the conviction of both men."

Interviewed Staley
"These statements, which were reduced to writing, were before the board at the hearing of the application but the petition for re-hearing or re-consideration was based upon the fact that Staley had not appeared before any tribunal under oath nor subjected to cross examination, with respect to the truth thereof."

"Two members of the board and a representative of the department of justice interviewed and examined Staley on January 4, 1950 at the Eastern penitentiary, who reported to the board, which today refused to grant the petition."

"A petition also was filed with the board on behalf of Edward E. Dipofi for re-consideration or rehearing and after full consideration by the board at its meeting today the petition was refused."

County History Is Theme For Play

An original play by J. M. Sheads, member of the faculty of Gettysburg high school and president of the Adams County Historical society, will be presented at the January meeting of the Women's Service Guild of the Presbyterian church Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock. The Junior Circle of the Guild is in charge of arrangements.

The play, written to commemorate the sesqui-centennial of the founding of Adams county being observed this year, is titled, "Adams County: An Interesting and Exciting Place to Live." The introduction will be given by Doris Miller and the cast will include: Jack Bartlett, Janet LeGore, Ronald Norgan, Wilbur Small, Diane Baird, Walter Hammond and William Tipton.

Special music for the evening's program will include a violin duet by Walter Nuss and Jean Mountain. Jean Wolfe will conduct the devotional period.

To Install Officers Of FOP, Auxiliary

Officers of Tri-County Lodge No. 76 of the Fraternal Order of Police will be installed at a dinner meeting to be held at the Moose home on York street Sunday night. Officers of the auxiliary will be installed at the same time.

The affair will be held on the second floor of the Moose home, beginning at 8:30 p. m. Members of the FOP from five counties, Adams, Perry, Cumberland, Franklin and Fulton, are expected to attend.

New officers of the lodge will be installed by State President J. William McCullough of Philadelphia, and the auxiliary officers by Mrs. Edith Mills, Johnstown, state and national president.

SELL HOME

Raymond J. and Amelia M. Schaefer, Freedom township, have sold their home near Marsh Creek Heights to Edward A. and Dorothy L. Hung, Silver Spring, Md. Possession will be given January 31. The sale was made through C. A. Heiges.

Warner Hospital Given High Rating

The Warner hospital has been awarded the full approval of the American College of Surgeons again, after being on this approved list for many years.

The listing of approved hospitals includes those of 25 beds or more which have satisfactorily complied with the requirements that assure the best care of the sick and injured.

The Warner hospital is listed as having 74 beds and 20 bassinets, and is operated as a non-profit association. Carl A. Baum is president of the board of directors, Dr. Roy W. Gifford chief of staff, and Walter R. Doud administrator.

The American College of Surgeons represents 16,000 leading surgeons in the United States, Canada and other countries.

PROPERTY TAX RETURNS MUST BE FILED JAN. 16

Approximately 1,000 Adams county residents, individuals and corporations were sharpening their pencils today for the annual battle with county personal property tax forms.

The 1,000, who own $4,073,000 worth of taxable personal property, annually must make a report to the Adams county commissioners on their holdings of mortgages, promissory notes or bonds, judgments, public loans, notes or any other form of certificate or evidence of indebtedness, shares of stock, articles of agreement and accounts bearing interest.

Those filling out the forms have an extra day to do it in this year. The returns must be submitted by January 15, but the commissioners' office noted that the 15th falls on Sunday, so the last day to turn in the forms will be January 16.

Subject To Penalty
Those who filed returns last year will receive copies of the form from their assessors; while those who will be making returns for the first time this year may obtain the forms from banks, the county commissioners' office or the 32 assessors in the county.

When in doubt the best thing to do is to make the return, a spokesman for the commissioners said today. If the property is not taxable it doesn't matter whether it is reported or not. If they can't tax it they won't. But if no report is made on taxable property then the assessors, according to the law, must make an estimate assessment, to which a penalty of 50 per cent must be added.

Thus the safest way concerning bonds, stocks, mortgages and the like is to file a return, the commissioners agreed. The commissioners' office will be more than willing to give any advice needed in making up the returns, they added.

The tax on the personal property is four mills, and is paid at the same time as any other county taxes.

Moose Women To Honor "Founders"

Charter members of the Women of the Moose will be honored Tuesday evening at a "Founders Night" program to be held at 7:45 o'clock by the local organization at the Moose home on York street.

Special invitations have been sent to the 41 charter members still members of the organization, inviting them to be present for the meeting. The organization was established here November 15, 1942. Since that time four of the original members have died and several have moved from the community.

Members of the Hanover unit of the Women of the Moose have been invited to join with the local group in the program Tuesday. The Hanover Women of the Moose sponsored the organization of the local chapter and members of the Hanover unit exemplified the ritual at the meeting establishing the Gettysburg chapter.

Arranging for the meeting is the Academy of Friendship, including Mrs. Enola Evans, chairman; Mrs. Anna Sumbury, Mrs. Ruth Lee, Mrs. Mary Miller, Mrs. Ruth Tate, Mrs. Catherine Shealer, Mrs. Bessie Smith and Mrs. Elda Gage, and the college of regents member, Mrs. Charles Lauver.

FILES DIVORCE ACTION

Loretta Romaine Ahlers Megonnell, Hampton, has brought suit for divorce in the Adams county courts against her husband, Robert Bruce Megonnell, York. She charges desertion and indignities.

PAYS SPEEDING FINE

Clarence B. Rogers, Jr., Red Bank, N. J., paid a fine of $15 before U. S. Commissioner Edward B. Bulleit on a charge of speeding at 50 miles per hour on West Confederate avenue brought by local National park officials.

Predicts Blast

Kenneth De Courcy (below), editor of a London monthly intelligence digest, says a second Russian atomic explosion will be set off on night of January 7 in the Soviet Asiatic republic of Kazak, north of India and west of Mongolia.

CAR THIEF IS ARRESTED HERE THIS MORNING

An automobile thief who confessed to borough police that he stole a car in Central City, Pa., last Sunday night, and drove it through parts of New York state and New England, without being caught, was arrested in Center square here at 12:45 o'clock this morning and committed to the Adams county jail.

He gave his name as George E. Lingafelt, 29, of 1292 Mine 42, Windber, Pa. The car is owned by James Kephart of Central City. A charge of driving an automobile without an operator's license and a fugitive from justice charge were filed against Lingafelt by Borough Police Officer Kenneth A. Tawney, who made the arrest. He is scheduled for a hearing before Justice of the Peace John H. Bashore this afternoon.

Lingafelt was questioned when he drove east on Chambersburg street and pulled into the taxicab stand without going around the circle, Tawney said. From state police it was learned that the car had been reported stolen, and Lingafelt, Tawney said, admitted the theft.

He was charged with larceny while serving in the army overseas, Tawney said Lingafelt told him, and received an "undesirable" discharge.

Rural Telephone Company Elects

Richard Musselman was re-elected president of the Mummastown Telephone company at a recent annual re-organization meeting held by the 16 subscribers on that line out of the Gettysburg telephone exchange.

S. C. Ballard was elected vice president and Paul Huddle was named secretary-treasurer to succeed A. W. Meyer, who retired from the position after serving for 35 years. Plans for maintenance of the line during the coming year were made at the meeting.

SUV TO INSTALL

Dr. Henry Stewart, a member of the Sons of Union Veterans for more than 60 years, and a past commander of the local camp, will be the installing officer for induction of new officers this evening at the regular meeting of Gettysburg Camp No. 112, Sons of Union Veterans. The meeting will start at 7:30 at the GAR post home, East Middle street.

Optimistic Economic Message Is Delivered By Pres. Truman

By STERLING F. GREEN
Washington, Jan. 6 (P)—President Truman declared today the United States can offer its people 61 million jobs this year, 64 million in five years and, in the end, "the complete elimination of poverty."

In a sober yet optimistic annual economic message, Mr. Truman told Congress the nation's economy has emerged strong and stable, and with reborn confidence, from its postwar crisis.

The way lies open, he said, for a rise in national income equal to nearly $1,000 a year for every family by 1954. His startling statement seemed to mean an average American family income above $5,000 four years hence.

Mr. Truman called on business, labor and farmers—as well as the government—to rise to the "magnificent challenge" ahead: A steady growth of income, employment and

C.R.O.P. DRIVE TO NET $4,000; EXCEEDS GOAL

Adams county has gone far over the top in its drive to raise $3,000 for the Christian Rural Overseas Program (CROP).

Reports presented at a meeting of township foremen Thursday night at the court house showed cash donations so far total $3,738.74. In addition, 1,400 pounds of milk and a quantity of canned foods have been given by countians towards the drive.

With four townships still to make reports, plus expected additional contributions from townships that have already reported, there is every indication that the final amount raised will exceed $4,000, Roy Heckenluber, county chairman, said.

Praises Workers

Heckenluber praised the solicitors who visited farms throughout the county during the drive to raise funds which will be used to buy food for needy in Europe and Asia.

Under the CROP program set up by Catholic and Protestant church organizations in the United States, the money raised in the CROP drives is used to purchase dehydrated foods. Those foods are shipped overseas and used to feed needy persons from kitchens set up by CROP. Among those who are fed principally by CROP are several million children orphaned by the war.

The 1,400 pounds of milk will be sold and will bring approximately $67 into the treasury of the county CROP organization, Chairman Heckenluber said.

To Auction Food

In addition, the following articles have been donated to CROP: 11 cans of peas, six quarts of home canned fruit, one can of corn, four glasses of jelly and one gallon can of apples. Those articles have been placed at the office of County Agent M. T. Hartman in the court house. Chairman Heckenluber asked that anyone interested in purchasing the cans of food and jelly make an offer for it prior to next Wednesday. On Wednesday the food will be sold to (Please Turn to Page 2)

Will Wire Building At County Home

The Adams county commissioners, meeting at the county home as the institution district Thursday, employed Stanley Hull, local electrical contractor, to place modern concealed wiring in the former insane building at the county home.

At present there are no lights in the rooms of the building, other than those on extensions from sockets in the hallway. All wiring is exposed.

The commissioners directed Hull to place fluorescent lights in the hallways and a ceiling light in each room. In addition, sockets are to be placed in the living room for lamps, radios and similar appliances.

After the wiring is completed the interior of the building will be painted, the commissioners said.

Roy Alexander Has Forms For Ex-POWs

Roy A. Alexander, Adams county veterans' affairs administrator, today announced that he has application forms for World War II prisoners of war who wish to claim additional pay granted to those who were mistreated in prison camps of enemy countries. The forms are to be forwarded to the War Claims Commission which investigates to determine whether the prisoner was in a camp where the Geneva conference regulations were violated by the enemy country. Where such is proven, a payment of $1 a day for each day the prisoner was held under those conditions is made.

Divorce Rate Here Decreases In 1949

The divorce rate in Adams county is decreasing, the records of the county prothonotary disclose.

During 1949 only 14 divorces were granted by the Adams county court as compared to 17 in 1948 and 29 during 1947. At the same time, the number of persons seeking divorces also decreased. In 1947 a total of 28 cases were scheduled for the four terms of court that year. In 1948, the number of cases scheduled was 24 and during 1949 the number of divorces asked was 21.

UPPER ADAMS HIGH TO GIVE PLAY JAN. 13

"Life of the Party," a three-act comedy written by Marjorie and Joseph Hayes, will be presented by the students in the Upper Adams Joint high school Friday, January 13, at 8 o'clock in the Arendtsville Memorial auditorium.

Preceding the play, there will be a half hour concert of choral and band music presented by the high school band and chorus.

The play has a cast of 17 characters, under the direction of Mrs. Doris Haas and Miss Eleanor Steele. The action takes place in the Hughes' household with Teresa Park as Mrs. Hughes and Danny Walters as Mr. Hughes. Barbara Yoder as the eldest daughter Mildred, and Bert Frederick, her girl-loving brother, Teddy, make up the older half of the family. Joyce McBeth as Amy, the rosy cheerleader, falls in love for the first time and Jean, played by Carolyn Dillon, really becomes "the life of the party" and completes the Hughes family.

Phyllis Decker as the elite Mrs. Victoria Coates stands up for the upper classes while her daughter, Ruth Coates, is the person of Ruth Longenecker makes life interesting for her boy friend and football star, Tisdale, portrayed by Jack Orner. Lawrence Hartman takes the part of Tommy King shy and scholarly, while Jerry Miller as Snazzy Mitchell, Mike's sidekick, is shy in a different way.

Paul Smith is the tough cop, Walter Lipscomb, who has his hands full in dealing with the Hughes family while Charles Collier, acted out by John Frederick, is miffed by the whole affair. Teddy Hughes' four charming girl friends are Betty Hall, Joyce Arnold, Patricia Martin, and Betty Lawver.

Plot of the play centers around Mrs. Hughes' desire to impress the right people in Butterfield, where the family has just moved, in the face of difficulties, namely an ever-suffering husband and unpredictable children.

Due to the large seating capacity of the Arendtsville Memorial auditorium only one performance will be given.

MISS GUISE IS OFFICER'S BRIDE

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Virginia Ardelie Guise, daughter of Mrs. Olive Guise, Roy Springs, and the late J. B. Guise, to Lt. Latham H. Brown, of Fayette, Miss. The wedding took place December 29 in the Methodist church at Fayette and the double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. E. E. Samples, pastor.

Mrs. Tansley, sister of the bridegroom, and Randall Brown, a brother of the bridegroom, were the attendants.

The bride wore a two-piece satin street length dress with matching slippers, a white felt bonnet trimmed with clusters of white forget-me-nots and a long flowing veil. She wore white gloves and a corsage of orchids.

Mrs. Brown is a graduate of York Springs high school with the class of 1942 and also of Central Pennsylvania Business college, Harrisburg. Until recently she was office supervisor for the John Hancock Life Insurance company, Harrisburg.

Lieutenant Brown is a graduate of the University of Mississippi and attained a regular army commission as the result of being an honor (Please Turn to Page 3)

Will Dedicate New Pipe Organ Sunday

A new Moller pipe organ recently installed in the Memorial Evangelical United Brethren church on West High street will be dedicated at a service to be held Sunday evening at 7 o'clock.

Dr. Paul E. V. Shannon, superintendent of the Pennsylvania conference of the EUB church, will preach the sermon and conduct the formal service of dedication.

Mrs. Kermit Wilson of Carlisle will be the guest soloist.

The public is invited to attend the service.

124 At Annual Times Dinner At Hotel Gettysburg Thursday; Five Honored For Long Service; Dr. Lloyd C. Keefauver Speaks

Proud Of Times, Says Educator

"I am proud of The Gettysburg Times. Its format is far superior to many other newspapers, its type is better and it shows better balance than most," Dr. Lloyd C. Keefauver, superintendent of schools and supervising principal of the Gettysburg joint school district, declared in an address on the subject "Keep the People Informed" at the sixth annual dinner of the Times and News Publishing company at the Hotel Gettysburg Thursday night.

"The Gettysburg Times refrains from the sensational, and for this it deserves praise. It marks it as too big for little things. It gives a practical description of the facts without hitting the man, who is down, too hard. There are times when our names may appear in the press in connection with things or events that do not altogether make us feel proud. Many details of fact might be included, and while satisfying some people's curiosity and desires for the sensational, they would only cause more harm to the person concerned."

Like Newsy Letter Daily

"The local newspaper is more like a homey and newsy daily letter. Sometimes we are apt to say that there is nothing in it, but how we rant and fuss and fume if the delivery boy misses us, or the wind blows the paper away."

"No one can deny that the newspaper in any community has great possibilities in influencing public opinion. Public opinion is a factor that shapes the thinking of our politicians, who in turn control the legislature, and from legislative bodies we get our laws."

"To influence public opinion people must be informed. This is the important function of the press. Radio is important, but it cannot do the job alone. We cannot all be stationed around a radio at an exact time to receive its offerings. It will never take the place of newspapers, which can be read leisurely, digested and re-read if necessary."

Objective Information

"In a way the press is like the school in that it purveys information. In school, however, the information need not be news, in fact more frequently it starts at the beginning of time. The information purveyed by the press must naturally be new. In school we have certain advantages over the press in imparting information. We can be reasonably assured of our listeners. The press must be satisfied with volunteer readers."

"Information must be objective, and this is no easy task. For years we have been striving to arrive at pupil grades objectively. In the field or social studies great care must be exercised by the teacher not to color the one or the other side of any question. The same thing goes for newspaper writers. The news must be imparted as accurately as the fact may warrant. Being objective (Please Turn to Page 7)

NEW CHEVROLET GOES ON DISPLAY HERE SATURDAY

Six models of the 1950 Chevrolet will be placed on display Saturday in the showrooms of the Warren Chevrolet Sales, 57 York street. Richard C. Warren, proprietor, said the showrooms will be open until 10 o'clock each night all next week to give the public opportunity to see the new cars.

The debut of the 1950 Chevrolets introduces the first automatic transmission in the low-priced field. The new device, a torque converter with a $150 extra equipment price tag, marks another first for Chevrolet. This biggest producer of the car companies has been in first place in production and sales during most of the last two decades.

With the transmission Chevrolet also is presenting a new higher powered engine, a new carburetor and a reduced rear axle ratio. All this, it asserts, combines to provide "the most satisfactory performance ever achieved with an automatic shift." The new device is called the "powerglide."

New Convertibles

No general price changes were announced with the new models, excepting a $250 cut on the all steel station wagon. This unit sold last year for $2,130. Its list price this year is $1,880.

Good Evening

All things may come
To those who wait,
But sometimes then,
They're out of date.

Watches, Pens Given Employees

One hundred and twenty-four employees, honorary staff members and guests attended the sixth annual dinner of the Times and News Publishing company Thursday night at the Hotel Gettysburg. It was the largest in the history of these affairs.

The principal speaker and new honorary staff member was Dr. Lloyd C. Keefauver, superintendent of schools and supervising principal of the Gettysburg joint school system.

Henry M. Scharf presided at a toastmaster for the program which followed the dinner of roast stuffed turkey, and made the presentation to the new members of the Times' Fifteen and Twenty year clubs. Fountain pens were presented Mary Little, Donald Turner and E. E. (Jim) Wolf, who have been employed continuously by The Gettysburg Times for 15 years. Gold wrist watches were given to John Raffensperger and Hunter Harness, 20-year employees.

Present Honorary Members

With Mr. Scharf and Dr. Keefauver at the speakers' table were: Samuel G. Spangler, president of the company; M. C. Jones, vice president; Attorney Franklin R. Bigham, secretary, and three of the honorary staff members who were the principal speakers at previous dinners, Edmund W. Thomas, Philip R. Bickle and Leighton C. Taylor. They were introduced by Mr. Scharf. Other honorary staff members unable to be present, who sent their regrets, included Dr. Henry W. A. Hanson, Judge W. C. Sheely, Dr. A. R. Wentz and Franklin Moore, Harrisburg. Others introduced were Miss Rhoda Breighner, treasurer, and J. M. Sullivan, New York city, and John N. Heil, Gettysburg, auditors.

Absent also was Carl Baum, manager. A message of regret at his absence was sent to him from the dinner.

Observe Anniversary

Regrets were also expressed at the absence of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Noel, who were unable to be present, because of illness in the family, and Margaret Smiley, who is ill and who suffered an injury to her foot some time ago.

Mrs. Margaret Ditzler, another employee, and her husband, were celebrating their 15th wedding anniversary.

Mr. Scharf extended a welcome to employees who have joined the Times and News Publishing company in the past year. He pointed out that 41 per cent of the employees have been with the company 10 years or more.

The Times' Twenty club now has 11 members. Those who became members previously include Bernard Maguire, whose employment dates from 1913; Margaret Smiley, Walter Small, Rhoda Breighner, Ralph A. Menchey, Paul L. Roy, Carl A. Baum, Helen Spangler and Paul B. Ramer.

Other members of the Times' Fifteen club include Don Bream, Sallena S. Menchey, George Kadwill and William Small.

Nine new members joined The Times organization in 1949. Seven were added in 1948; five in 1947; four in 1946; six in 1945; three in 1943; one each in 1942, 1941 and 1938; two in 1936 and one in 1935. There are 61 employees at the present time.

MIDWEST FACES FLOOD PERILS

(By The Associated Press)

Flood perils appeared mounting in Indiana and Illinois and a severe ice storm struck damaging blows in Memphis today.

Bitter cold weather which had chilled most of the midwest this week moderated but more freezing weather threatened additional damage to California citrus and vegetable crops. Mild weather continued in the southeastern states and northward to the middle Atlantic region.

Hundreds remained homeless in the flooded areas. At least three persons drowned as waters from swollen rivers swept over widely separated areas of Illinois and Indiana. Some flood conditions also were reported in parts of Missouri and Kentucky.

A wide band of freezing rain and sleet impeded highway travel from northern Ohio and northwest Pennsylvania southwestward across east of Indiana and southern Illinois into southeast Missouri and Arkansas. Rain fell in eastern Texas and the Tennessee Valley.

The worst ice storm in 17 years curtailed all public utilities, including transportation, in Memphis. No immediate relief was in sight. All schools were closed until Monday. City bus transportation service was cut 50 per cent of normal as hours of sleet and rain turned to ice and nearly paralyzed the Mississippi river city of 350,000.

Thousands of Memphis homes were without electricity and many without heat.

Announce Speakers For PBA Meeting

The speakers at the Pennsylvania Bankers' Association Public Relations conference to be held at the Penn-Harris hotel, Harrisburg, on January 27 include Dale Brown, assistant vice president, National City bank of Cleveland, whose topic will be, "Banks Must Have Good Public Relations"; Julius J. Spindler, president, Farmers and Merchants bank of Highland, Highland, Ill., who will speak on, "Public Relations Program of a Small Bank"; and Clinton B. Axford, editor of The American Banker, who will discuss, "If I Were a Banker in a Medium Sized Town," it was announced today by Norman T. Hayes, president, PBA.

A number of county bankers plan to attend the session.

A panel headed by John D. Balmer, president, Merchants National Bank and Trust company, Meadville, will discuss, "Good Public Relations and How a Program Can Be Made to Work."

Pleased With Bids In Housing Program

Harrisburg, Jan. 6 (AP)—The Commonwealth's $15,000,000 low-rent housing program will turn out three-bedroom units for as low as $38 a month.

Bids that low were submitted late yesterday for more than $5,000,000 in housing construction in Allentown, Bethlehem, Erie and Butler. Ten bids were offered for building 629 housing units in the four cities.

"We're more than pleased with the results of the bidding," said Theodore Roosevelt III, state commerce secretary and planning board chairman. "Our program is really off to a good start."

The propositions ranged from the low of $38 in Bethlehem to a $77 a month high for a project in Allentown.

The 1949 legislature made an allocation of $15,000,000 to the planning board for use in subsidizing low-rental housing.

Hospital Beds And Walker Available

The Adams County Red Cross today announced that two hospital beds and a walker purchased by the local Lions club have arrived at the local Red Cross office and are now available for use. The Lions club purchased the articles for use on a no-cost loan basis by anyone needing them and asked the Red Cross to act as distributing agent for the beds and walker.

Those who may have need of them should call the Red Cross.

Mrs. Stonesifer, 75, Dies In Emmitsburg

Mrs. Annie Virginia Stonesifer, 75, Emmitsburg, widow of Mahlon Stonesifer, died at her home this morning at 6:10 o'clock.

She was a daughter of the late William and Maria (Overholzer) Fuss and was a member of Elias Lutheran church, Emmitsburg.

Surviving are nine children, Robert W., Edgar M., Mrs. Reno Eyer and Mrs. Charles Copenhaver, all of Emmitsburg; Mrs. Allen Bollinger, Taneytown R. 2; Leonard and Roy, both of Chicago; Carroll, Westminster, and Mrs. Charles Myers, Thurmont; 43 grandchildren; 28 great-grandchildren, and one sister, Mrs. Alma Newcomer, Taneytown.

Funeral services Monday at 1 p. m. from Elias Lutheran church, Emmitsburg, conducted by the Rev. Phillip Bower. Interment in Mountview cemetery, Emmitsburg. Friends may call at the Allison funeral home, Emmitsburg, Sunday evening after 7 o'clock.

"Cold Front" Gets Sidetracked; 64 Today

The cold front which the weather bureau has said for the past two days was moving out of the west failed again to materialize today. Instead, Gettysburgians got a smattering of rain and a promise of more of the same for tomorrow.

Instead of the predicted temperature drop of as much as 30 degrees, the mercury at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon was still in the 60's. The official thermometer registered 64 degrees, compared with 59 Thursday and 65 on Wednesday.

While dandelions were blooming in Adams county, the cold weather took a sudden course toward the north-northeast and by-passed Pennsylvania.

LOCAL SERVICE GOES ON

Compliance by the Reading company with the government's order to cut steam train mileage by one-third in order to conserve coal will not have any effect locally, it was announced today. A spokesman for the company said that only passenger trains are affected by the order, and only freight trains utilize the Gettysburg-Harrisburg section of the Reading.

FERRYBOATS CRASH

calls the Bel Air, has a $1,640 price at the factory. This is $100 under the price of the Styleline de luxe conventional type convertible.

With the new hard-top convertible, Chevrolet is producing two two-door sedans, two four-door sedans, a sport coupe, a business coupe, a convertible coupe and the all-steel station wagon. Most of the bodies are available in "special" and "de luxe" types.

Factory list prices for the entire line range from $1,250 for a Styleline special business coupe to the $1,880 tag on the Styleline de luxe station wagon.

For use with the automatic transmission Chevrolet is providing a new 105-horsepower engine. The cars to be produced without the automatic device will have improved 92-horsepower engines. Both are six-cylinder units.

Find Abducted Detroit Watchman

Detroit, Jan. 6 (AP)—The watchman who found a dynamite charge planted last month at the CIO United Auto Workers headquarters was abducted early today and dumped, alive, beside the River Rouge.

He was found this morning, trussed up and suffering from exposure.

The watchman, George Thomas, 58, told police two men grabbed him at 5 a. m. and drove away with him in a car.

Doctors at Wayne County hospital said he was temporarily in serious condition.

Police were questioning Thomas at the hospital, but officers had no immediate report on what he had to say.

When the watchman was found at 8:22 a. m., a rope was still around his feet, the loop was around his neck and there were rope burns on his wrists.

the highest bidder. Members of the county CROP committee in that way hope to secure more for the donated foods than would be obtained if they were sold article by article to some store or individuals.

The reports presented Thursday night showed that the $567.59 raised in Mt. Pleasant township by the committee working under Quintin D. Rebert was the largest sum raised by any one township.

Other District Reports

Menallen township reported the second highest donation, with the committee headed by Clark Fettes turning in $351.40.

A number of other townships reported collections of more than $200. Calvin Bream, foreman of the drive in Hamilton township, reported collections of $268.60. Edgar Leer, foreman for the drive in Huntingdon township, turned in $266.50 collected in that township. Howard Waybright, foreman for Cumberland township, reported collections totalling $219.75. Roy Tate, Franklin township foreman, turned in $236.10. M. T. Walter and Harry Geiselman, foremen for Butler township and Biglerville, reported collections of $258.50. Joseph Stoner, Reading township foreman, turned in $234.25 plus the donations of 1,400 pounds of milk. Harvey Grove, Union township foreman, reported his collectors collected $257.25. The Mt. Joy township foreman, Allen Walker, presented collections totalling $241.50.

Haverford Wrestlers To Meet Bullets Here Saturday; Cage Teams At Lehigh, Mercersburg

Gettysburg college athletes face their biggest week-end to date this year with the varsity wrestlers, football and swimming teams, and freshmen cage outfits carded for engagements.

Scheduled for action at home is the Bullet-Haverford wrestling card Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

In their first three engagements Clyde Cole's grapplers defeated Pitt and Penn while losing to Lehigh. The Bullet lineup will contest to face Haverford except in 125-pound event in which either Andrews or Bob Heldrich will face Graham McCutcheon. McCutcheon, who becomes ineligible the close of the present semester, received his starting post in order Coach Cole may secure experience for replacements for future years.

Have Champion
Haverford lost its only engagement to Bucknell 17-15 when it was forced to use two substitutes. In Lehigh, 175-pound Middle Atlantic champ last year, the Haverford team has a lead never beaten by Lehigh opponent. Rowdewill is expected to wrestle in the heavyweight division Saturday.

At 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon strong Lehigh swimming team meet Jack Shainline's men. Shainline has indicated the winning probable lineup: 60-yard dash, Lou Sheffer, N. Rommel; backstroke, Sheffer, Don Ellett; medley, Dick Cadden, Allen Mullin, Don Mastman; 100 free-style, Edman, Dave Perry; 220, Perry; backstroke, Mulbach, P. Botterbach; 440 free-style, Len Nugent; 880, Raskin; 400 free-style, Mastman; 1,600, Rommel, Sheffer; diving, Lipponcott. Jack Schellinase, a freshman, will be kept out of Saturday's action due to an injury.

Cagers at Lehigh
The varsity and freshmen basketball teams will be on foreign soil Saturday evening. Coach "Hen" Bream will send his regulars against Lehigh at Bethlehem. The Bullets won four of five tilts before the holidays and are showing definite signs of improvement when the holidays interrupted the schedule. Following Saturday's game the team will meet Bucknell here next Tuesday. Johnny Yovisich's freshmen will start their season by meeting the Mercersburg academy A and B teams at Mercersburg. Coach Yovisich has indicated his probable starting lineup for his varsity as follows: Bob Pigolato and Harris, forward; Charles DeBoi, center; Jim Hammond and "Skip" Gill, guards.

Warriors Host To Unbeaten Carlisle

Unbeaten Carlisle high, sporting a record of five straight victories including its initial South Penn league game, will come here this evening to battle the Gettysburg high Warriors in the first home league game for the Forney-men.

Tonight's contest is expected to draw a large crowd including many fans from Carlisle who are enthusiastic about the Green and White's chances for a loop championship.

The Warriors can ill afford to lose tonight if they are to be a factor in the first half race. To date they have won three while losing four.

At 6:45 the jayvee teams, both winners in opening league games, clash.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Jan. 6 (AP)—Two things which Branch Rickey says he never had done in baseball are permit ball players to live "off the base" with their families during spring training and send out contracts until just before the Feb. 1 deadline. . . . The first is interesting mostly because of the rumors that developed in some other camps last spring. . . . The second because Branch says he seldom has real trouble signing his players and almost never has hold-outs. . . . "When a player doesn't sign until the last day, that's not a holdout," Branch insists. "That's a fellow playing his last card at the last minute." . . . Jack Lavelle, the round football scout, is going on the air with a television show sponsored by a well-known brewer of stout. Naturally, it ought to be a round table discussion.

Ed Pucci, all-Ohio prep footballer a year or so ago, is slated to join his brother, Ralph, on the Southern California varsity next fall. Ed attended Pasadena City college to make up his grades and was a first string player there. Ed's former Canton McKinley high teammate, Nick O'Brien, is expected to jump from the USC frosh into a first team berth. . . . Lynn Patrick of the Rangers has adapted the two-rotation system to hockey by playing his young Raleigh-Lund-Slowinski line against the scoring stars of the other teams and holding back his own scoring aces to face slightly weaker defenses. . . . Norfolk, Va., fight promoters have been trying to line up a fight for Bill Bossio, who has been doing well around New York. Bill got his start there as a salaried man on the USS Mississippi.

DOTS ALL, BROTHERS

Since Coalton is reported to have suffered a recurrence of his old throat ailment, Tommy Sheehan suggests changing his nickname from the "Calumet Express" to the "Calumet Rattler." . . . Willie Ketchum, whose fighter, Ruben Jones, injured his leg while losing to Lee Sala, moans "Lotsa times when you make a fight you say 'I wish the guy'd break a leg,' but I never thought it would happen."

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and
The Gettysburg Times

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

Swirling Blizzard Greeted New Year Here: In a swirling blizzard, doddering 1934 turned over the nation's reins to 1935 Monday at midnight.

The snow storm kept celebrators from the streets and highways, but on the stroke of 12, whistles were blown and bells were rung, speeding the old year and welcoming the new.

Snow began falling at 7 o'clock and shortly after midnight the precipitation changed to sleet and rain.

With legal liquor flowing freely, no arrests were made for drunkenness by police on the night shift here.

A special midnight show was held at the Majestic theater, with more than 600 persons, many of them from out-of-town, in attendance.

At Roosevelt Tea: Miss Mildred Wilson, of Littlestown, attended a New Year's tea given Tuesday at the Church Home and Infirmary, Baltimore, in honor of Mrs. James Roosevelt, mother of President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Berger-Donley Nuptials Read: Miss Florence Berger, of Tower City, and Dr. J. Clair Donley, an optometrist, of Gettysburg, were married Friday at St. Paul's Lutheran church at Tower City.

Governor Honors Mrs. W. A. McClean: By special invitation from Governor Gifford Pinchot, Mrs. William Arch McClean, East Middle street, on Wednesday afternoon attended ceremonies in connection with the presentation by the governor of the first check to an aged person, qualified under the state's old age pension act.

Mrs. McClean was the first woman in Adams county to be appointed by Governor Pinchot to look after old age pension work here during the governor's first administration.

Return to Camp: Earl and Paul Harbaugh, members of the coast artillery, have returned to Fort Jay, New York, after spending the holidays with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Harbaugh, Gettysburg R. 1. They will sail for Honolulu January 9.

Resumes Bank Position: Elmer W. Warren, Baltimore street, has resumed his position as clerk at the First National bank after an absence of several months.

Church Board Dinner Guests: Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Winebrenner entertained the board of Trinity Evangelical Reformed Sunday school at a turkey dinner Wednesday evening at their home on Baltimore street. Twenty members were present. Mr. Winebrenner was recently re-elected superintendent of the school.

Other officers elected for the ensuing year were: George T. Raffensperger, assistant superintendent; Miss Nancy Butt, secretary; Paul Snyder, assistant secretary; Ray J. Kitzmiller, treasurer; Miss Ellen Tipton, librarian; Mrs. John Strevg, assistant librarian; Miss Janice Harbach, pianist.

Married by Clerk: Miss Anna May Stiner and Raymond L. Schell, both of Berwick township, were married Thursday morning at 10 o'clock by Mrs. Elmer W. Warren, deputy clerk of the courts, after she issued the couple a marriage license.

Campus Club Is Host to Husbands: The members of the Campus club entertained their husbands Friday evening at the Y.W.C.A. Music was furnished by Professor and Mrs. Dunnington, Professor Fred Shaffer and Professor Bertram H. Salzer. Forty-five persons were in attendance.

Members of the committee included Dr. and Mrs. R. S. Saby, Professor and Mrs. George R. Larkin, Professor and Mrs. Bertram H. Salzer, Dr. and Mrs. W. C. Waltemyer and Professor and Mrs. Ernest O. von Schwerdtner.

Schnurman Is B. & L. President: At the regular weekly meeting of the Gettysburg Building and Loan

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS
THAT FACE OF YOURS

The study of autographs is most interesting because a signature reveals so much of the character of the person. It is something that belongs. But just as fascinating, and just as true an index to character, is the face that we all carry around with us. In my reading I came across the statement that "the smile on the noble face of the young Leonardo da Vinci brought refreshment to every downcast spirit."

A cheerful, vibrant face casts a spell that radiates afar. You pass such a face upon the street, note it in crowds, and experience its influence long after it has become but a memory. People turned around to take another look at the face of Daniel Webster as he passed along the street, or sat in his seat in the United States Senate, yet the Lincoln face lives longest in our memory because of its evident kindness, sympathy, and human awareness.

We carry the story of our lives as well as our thoughts upon this face of ours. We know the happy, healthy people, as well as those who worry and carry trouble, just from the picture in their faces. And yet there is many a face that conceals its troubles or sorrows by a noble and covering mask that may be no more than a smile, but which suggests that ever conquering spirit behind, within the mind and heart.

Every day we write some sort of a chapter upon this face of ours. Many a writer has referred to the face of W. H. Hudson, the lover of birds, as having a countenance that resembled that of a great bird—with keen eyes ever alert and watchful for the minutest characteristic of these feathered friends.

I have read how the characteristics of a happy married couple seem to be exchanged so that the faces of each have a common resemblance. Often have we heard the expression of a person having a Christ-like face. There is no disputing the fact that thoughts stamp themselves upon the face, so that we look what we are. Often one's face has proved one's best security!

Tomorrow Adams will talk on the subject: "For Love of Birds." Protected, 1950, by The George Matthews Adams Service

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST

IMPORTANT ALL
In the morning when the sun
Shouts: "Get up! The day's begun!
There are duties to be done,
Waiting all!"

What confusion we should see
If all men, including me,
Deaf pretended then to be
To the call.

If the humble and the great
Muttered: "Let our duties wait.
Early up or rising late,
None will care.

We're not needed. Sleep or wake
Or the day off choose to take,
Little difference will it make Anywhere."

But the things we say and do
Are important; needed, too.
Bleak would be the whole day through

Without all.
Every deed and word of cheer,
Every task are needed here,
Though the service may appear
To be small.

Sunday School Lesson

THE CHURCH EMPOWERED
By Howard R. Gold, D.D.
Margaret C. Gold

Acts 2:1-4, 14-17, 37-41
Memory Selection: "Repent and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ for the forgiveness of your sins." Acts 2:38.

The lessons for the current quarter are closely related. Last week the disciples of Jesus were bidden to wait for power before they began their assigned work. Today that power is given abundantly and it witnesses the birthday of the Christian church. The day of Pentecost is just that, and there are many who believe that no sufficient importance is attached to the day and the great event that took place, the outpouring of the Holy Spirit upon waiting men. Dr. Charles Jefferson, speaking of Pentecost says: "It ranks with Christmas and Easter."

Actually, it was the first annual festival day adopted by the early Church.

The Occasion
In the Hebrew observance Pentecost was connected with the Passover festival. On that day the disciples were together in one place, very likely the Upper Room. It should be noted that they were there

Greek Government Collapses Thursday

Athens, Jan. 6 (AP)—Greece's coalition government, which presided over the rout of the communist guerrilla rebellion, collapsed Thursday in a pre-election dispute between Populist (Royalist) and Liberal cabinet ministers.

Premier Alexander Diomedes sent his cabinet's resignation to King Paul.

At the same time Diomedes announced to reporters that Alexander Papagos, Greece's greatest living military hero, has resigned as commander of the nation's armed forces.

There have been persistent reports that Generalissimo Papagos, leader of the final successful drive against the communists,

DOCTOR PLEADS "NOT GUILTY" IN MERCY KILLING

Manchester, N. H., Jan. 6 (AP)—Dr. H. N. Sander Thursday pleaded innocent in a loud voice to an indictment charging first degree murder in the so-called mercy slaying of an incurable cancer patient.

The state agreed to his freedom pending trial under a continuance of his $25,000 bond with the stipulation that he refrain from medical practice until disposition of the case.

Dr. Sander's attorney, Louis E. Wyman, said the stipulation about refraining from practice was over the protest of defense counsel because of the presumption of innocence at this time.

"I assume this agreement is without prejudice in the future," Wyman told the court.

Dr. Sander stood erect and showed no emotion while court clerk Arthur S. Healy read the indictment charging the country doctor: "Feloniously, wilfully and of his malice aforethought did inject 10 cubic centimeters of air in close succession into the veins of Mrs. Abbie Borroto, 59, his cancer patient."

Long before the physician entered the second floor superior courtroom with his wife and two attorneys, 250 spectators had crowded into every public seat.

Mrs. Borroto—ill a year and a half and shrunken to half her normal weight—was the wife of a Manchester oil salesman.

Dr. Sander, who said yesterday he had gone sleepless for days, was unsmiling and silent today.

Littlestown

Littlestown—The Rev. Harvey B. Simons, pastor of Centenary Methodist church has announced that at the Holy Communion service to be held Sunday morning there will be adult baptism; reception of members from preparatory membership and by confession of faith. The special quarterly communion offering will also be received. All regular meetings next week will be postponed on account of the annual preaching mission in St. Paul's church.

Mrs. Luther Sentz, M street was hostess to the monthly meeting of the Mite society of St. Paul's Lutheran church on Tuesday evening. Devotions were led by Mrs. Paul Schievart. Business was in charge of the president, Mrs. Emma Norwood, and Mrs. Schievart gave the secretary's report. Committees to clean the church communion cups were appointed for the year as follows: January Communion; Mrs. John M. Feeser and Mrs. Maurice C. Wareheim; Easter: Mrs. Minnie Miller and Mrs. William Dixon; Summer: Mrs. Mahlon Bucher and Mrs. Walter Groce; and October: Mrs. Paul Schievart and Mrs. Emma Norwood. The next regular meeting will be held Tuesday, February 7, at the home of Mrs. Robert Mehning, Lumber street.

The Rev. Kenneth D. James has announced that the following officers were elected on Tuesday evening for the year at the reorganization meeting of the council of St. John's Lutheran church. The pastor is president by virtue of his office as pastor; Vice president, Malcolm Hess; secretary, Harry O. Harner; treasurer, Fred King (non-member of the council); financial secretary, Mrs. Malcolm Heiser (non-member of council) and lay delegate to Synod, Kenneth Bortner. Synod will meet in Altoona in May.

The final meeting of the Christian Endeavor society of St. John's Lutheran church for the winter months was held Sunday evening in charge of Miss Helen Myers. The topic was, "In the Beginning God." Following the call to worship by Miss Myers, scripture was read by Alvina Groft and prayer was offered by L. Robert Crouse. The society voted a contribution to the church organ fund. The meeting closed with the Christian Endeavor Benediction.

New Year's Day guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Basehoar and family, East King street, were Mrs. Basehoar's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Shelley, Goldsboro; Mr. and Mrs. Levin Schriver, Harrisburg; and Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Hershey, Hanover.

Moscow Gripped By 30-Below Weather

Moscow, Jan. 6 (AP)—Moscow, with temperatures dropping under 30 degrees below zero (fahrenheit), was gripped today in its sharpest cold wave since the grim winter of 1941-42 when the Germans were driven back from the Soviet capital.

The oldtime Russian winter has been building up since Christmas when the mercury plunged below zero. Ever since it's been getting progressively colder. One morning the thermometer registered 31 degrees below zero.

The coldest recorded temperature for Moscow was chalked up January 17, 1940, with a low of 43.6 degrees below zero.

Moscow's favorite cold wave story this year is about Osman Kumukov, who took a 10-minute dip through a hole in the ice of Moscow river on New Year's Eve. He said he just wanted to prove a human being can swim the year round if properly trained. The temperature was 29 below zero.

Senators Divided On DP Measure

Washington, Jan. 6 (AP)—Senator Myers (D-Pa.) has predicted that the Senate will pass the House-approved bill liberalizing the rules for letting displaced persons into this country.

But Senator McCarran (D-Nev.) said it won't happen if he can stop it. McCarran's previous success in doing that prompted President Truman to renew his appeal for action on the measure in his State of the Union message yesterday.

The bill passed by the House last June would eliminate the so-called "discriminatory" features of the present law and increase the number of DP's eligible to enter this country from 205,000 in two years to 339,000 in three years.

The same bill is pending in the Senate, but for months it remained bottled up in the Senate Judiciary committee, which McCarran heads. Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.) succeeded in getting the measure out of the committee last fall while McCarran was in Europe, but the Senate later sent it back with instructions that the committee report out a bill by January 25.

GOP LEADERS ROAR PROTEST OVER FORMOSA

By DON WHITEHEAD
Washington, Jan. 6 (AP)—A quiet official move to clear Americans out of communist-threatened Formosa today underlined a U. S. "It's not-out-fight" decision which brought roars of protest from Republicans.

Diplomatic officials said the word had gone out to Americans to leave the Chinese Nationalist stronghold unless they had important business there.

A general warning to evacuate was avoided, authorities said, lest it weaken Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's precarious hold on the island. Chiang reportedly faces a grave threat of internal revolution on Formosa, as well as a possible communist attack.

The possibility of an uprising may have played an important part in the decision announced yesterday by President Truman not to send any military help or advice to Chiang at this time.

Wave Of Angry Comment
Mr. Truman's announcement brought a near-solid wave of angry comment from congressional Republicans. They promised not to give up the fight for aid to Formosa.

The debate crackled on the Senate floor for more than five hours yesterday. One chief complaint was: The President ignored Congress and the bi-Partisan foreign policy in reaching his decision. On the other side, Democratic leaders gave Mr. Truman strong support and denied the bi-Partisan policy was being kicked overboard.

Republican criticism was led by Senator Vandenberg of Michigan, who has been one of the chief defenders of the administration's foreign programs. Vandenberg issued a statement saying: "The Formosa question is presently clarified but it is not settled by today's executive statements."

Caught By Surprise
He expressed regret that the President had reached his decision without consulting "the appropriate committees of Congress." Obviously the announcement had caught him by surprise—as it did virtually all the lawmakers, both Republicans and Democrats.

The only Senators known to have any advance word was Chairman Connally (D-Texas) of the Senate Foreign Relations committee. Secretary of State Acheson gave Connally notice of what was coming during a visit to the capitol late Wednesday. Acheson apparently tried to reach Vandenberg, but the Michigan Senator had left for his home.

One Senator said that even Secretary of Defense Johnson and the joint chiefs of staff were not notified in advance.

Williamsport, Pa., Jan. 6 (AP)—Judge Charles Scott Williams of Lycoming county has said he is giving serious consideration to becoming a candidate for governor on the Republican ticket.

The 45-year-old jurist said he has received encouragement from leaders in various parts of the state and indicated that if he decides to enter the race, he will make a formal announcement later this month.

San Diego, Calif., Jan. 6 (AP)—The commander of the U. S. first task fleet, who wrote a letter involved in the armed services unification row, plans to retire from the Navy rather than accept demotion.

Vice Admiral Gerald F. Bogan said he had learned through the press that orders were being issued transferring him to a rear admiral's post in the fleet air command at Jacksonville, Fla.

Schenectady, N. Y., Jan. 6 (AP)—The General Electric company is building two giant battery chargers on railroad cars for the Navy to use in servicing submarines.

The power plants, mounted on 50-ton railroad boxcars, will shuttle between sub bases. They will be rolled alongside docked subs to recharge their batteries.

SOME HOPE FOR PA. GOP ACCORD; UP TO GRUNDY

Washington, Jan. 6 (AP)—Refusing to accept a slam-bang battle as inevitable, a prominent Republican said today there's still hope for harmony among Pennsylvania Republicans.

The spokesman, on friendly terms with both Gov. James H. Duff and former U. S. Senator Joseph R. Grundy, said he was well aware of the dark outlook at present but insisted he was not engaging in wishful thinking.

He summed up his views for a reporter this way: Grundy, by far, would prefer Rep. Kunkel of Harrisburg as GOP candidate for the Senate to Duff. But he would prefer a Republican in the Senate to a Democrat.

Not Politically Stupid
What's more, he would rather win half a battle than no battle.

Therefore, if Grundy becomes convinced that Duff will defeat Kunkel in the May 16 primaries he might decide to support Duff after all, in exchange for having something to say about the nominee for governor.

The spokesman, who declined to allow use of his name, said Grundy now is feeling out Pennsylvania manufacturers on their attitude toward Duff. If he finds they are more kindly disposed toward the governor than he expected, he might let the Kunkel candidacy go begging, the spokesman added.

"Just remember this," he said. "Even his worst enemies never ac-

Miss Couple After Their Home Burns

Butler, Pa., Jan. 6 (AP)—State police today reported a married couple missing and presumed dead in the smoking ruins of their home near Portersville.

The home, midway between Butler and New Castle, was destroyed in an early morning blaze. It was occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Finley Taylor, police said.

The ruins still are too hot to probe for the missing couple's bodies, but a fire company has been dispatched with equipment to comb the debris.

Police said first reports indicated the Taylors were the only occupants of the structure.

cluded Joe Grundy of being politically stupid."

Kunkel Will Stay
Kunkel, well-to-do lawyer, banker and farmer, has said he is in the race for keeps and his friends here believe him. Their reasons are these:

Contrary to the position many candidates find themselves in, Kunkel can lose the senatorial race and not worry about the financial future. For that reason he can sacrifice his House seat to make the Senate race.

Furthermore, they believe Kunkel's declaration that he became a senatorial candidate only to provide a clear-cut issue between the anti-New Dealism he represents and the pro-New Dealism represented by Senator Myers, Philadelphia Democrat who is a candidate for reelection.

Therefore, they say, it would be out of character for Kunkel to give up the primary fight against Duff.

Littlestown OFFICIALS PAY VISIT TO LIONS

District Governor H. L. Garman, Huntingdon, and Zone Chairman William Musser, Fairfield, were present at the semi-monthly meeting of the Littlestown Lions club held Thursday evening at Bankert's restaurant. Governor Garman spoke briefly to the club on the activities of the various clubs within the district. Chairman Musser also spoke briefly and he presented the Lions Key for securing two new members to John N. Sell, Lion Lester Sachs from Juniata Valley was a visitor.

President John F. Feeser was in charge of the business meeting. Two new members, both teachers at the Littlestown Junior Senior high school, were accepted into the club. It was announced that a membership drive will be conducted within the district during the month of January and an award will be presented to the club having the greatest percentage of new members during that time.

The meeting was in charge of the Civic Improvement committee composed of Amos L. Spangler, Paul H. Scheivert and Clarence E. Schroll. The next meeting of the club will be held on Thursday, January 19, and the Community Betterment committee will be in charge. This committee includes Samuel L. Bucke, William W. Thomas and John N. Sell.

The January meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Kingsdale Volunteer Fire company will be held Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock in

PLAN NEW BUILDING

Pittsburgh, Jan. 6 (AP)—A 16-story, 573-unit apartment building may soon be built in Pittsburgh's downtown golden triangle section. Plans for a U-shaped building, with an the Oak Grove school house, Gerbany township. Program committee is composed of Mrs. Clyde Crouse, Mrs. William Ebaugh, Mrs. Claude Gerrick and Mrs. Charles Ecker.

The monthly meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Ocker Snyder Post No. 321, American Legion, will be held Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock at the post home, East King street. Hostesses for the meeting will be Mrs. Joseph P. Long, Mrs. Clinton O. Sentz, Mrs. Ernest R. Sentz and Mrs. Ruel Schwartz.

Door prizes will be awarded on Saturday night at the Village Chevrolet, Inc., which is the day the new 1950 Chevrolet will be on display for the first time. Souvenirs will also be given to all who visit the showrooms to see the new car on Saturday. Clarence R. Reck, president of the company, has announced that three series of the 1950 Oldsmobile are also on display at the Village Chevrolet. They are the 76, 88 and 98 series.

Chapter 3

Rudd was looking at him again, his gaze wandering on to the cattle. Impatience showed in his eyes. "You can't keep those cattle here," he repeated. "I won't do it." "I'm keepin' them right here," Valse assured him. "This is my land. And," he added meaningfully, with a glance at the dusty riders clustered behind him, "these are my crew."

Doubt showed for a moment in Rudd's face, as he took in the look on the faces of the dozen men who had come up from Texas. He knew the breed of the trail, and their fondness for trouble. And it was only too apparent that they were ready to back Valse in whatever move he made.

"Okay, if that's the way you feel," he decided. "But when Zachary gets back, there'll be trouble."

"Shouldn't wonder if you're right," he drawled, and at the tone, Rudd looked at him uneasily. For just a moment, that drawing tone had sounded like Valse, and it was a tone that had always presaged trouble.

Impatience was strong in Valse. Much as he was changed, it couldn't be that much. And swift doubt had crept into his mind. Armin Zachary was not above profiting by such a chance. Naturally, if the report came that the owner of the Gun was dead, and he was the heir, he'd take over. But to persist in such a story, after Valse's return—that snatched of something else. Abruptly he set spurs to his horse.

"I'm going on in," he said. "Who of my old crew's here?"

"Who?" Rudd swung his own horse alongside, while the two crews followed, mutually wary. "Nobody."

That was not surprising. Neither Rudd nor Zachary would get on well with any men who had worked for him.

"But there's a couple men of my crew that I want you to see," Rudd added. "They'll be back at the bunkhouse by now."

Valse shot a puzzled glance. There was some queer connotation back of that.

"Anybody I know?" he asked. Rudd's smile was hard to understand.

"That depends," he said. "Personally, I wouldn't think it likely."

They were topping the slope now, and the Gun lay ahead, a quarter of a mile. There it was, just as he remembered it, just as he had built it himself. No outward change there, at least.

Most of the crew were in from the range now, loitering about, waiting for the supper call. A crew, Valse noted, of competent looking men, but fully as hard-bitten as any of his Texans. There were at least a score of them, a big crew, even for such a spread as the Gun. Counting Rudd and the two who had been with him, and Armin Zachary when he would return, there were two dozen men here, approximately twice as many as he and his own crew, if it came to trouble.

An hour before, Valse had been intending to pay his own crew off by the next day, to let them rest up a few days and then hit the trail back again. That was what they had been expecting, the agreement at the start of the drive.

But now he'd be in no hurry to let them go. And however anxious some of them might be to get home again, they'd stick to the last man if he asked them to, just so long as there was any prospect of trouble. There was comfort in that knowledge.

Rudd's crew seemed to sense the tension in these new arrivals. They remained where they were, but there was a suddenly watchful air about them.

There was one good thing here. The place looked well kept up. Zachary would see to that.

Valse's eyes swept the others. Not a familiar face among them. And then, as they came to a halt, Rudd was introducing them.

"Boys," he said, "look yonder. You'll see some critters comin' into sight over the hill. There's more behind them. This hombre's just turned his herd in on the Gun—a big trail herd, Texas longhorns."

The interest of the others quickened sharply. A few came to their feet. Rudd went on, a mocking smile on his face.

"He's done it, claimin' he has a right to that he owns the Gun. He says he's Trib Valse, who started the ranch. I used to know Trib right well—but that's his story, anyway. Marsh, Huff, step up here."

Two men came forward at that command, looking slightly uneasy, a little self-conscious. Both of them were complete strangers to Valse. Marsh was a sandy-haired man, with whiskers trimmed in a neat round knob. Huff, nearly bald, was thick-set, solid, slow of movement.

"I want you to meet these boys," Rudd went on, turning to Valse.

"They both served in the Union army, same as you claim to have done. They both knew Valse in the army—am I right, boys?"

Huff nodded. Marsh spoke up. "Yeah, that's right," he agreed. "We both knew him."

"And you were both in the battle where he was killed, I understand?"

"Yeah," Marsh agreed again. Huff spoke heavily. "We helped bury him," he added.

"And you were both sure it was him?"

"Sure?" Huff spat. "He was our lieutenant. We'd been under him for six months."

"And as I understand it, you both reported that to your superior officers," Rudd added. "That's all, boys. Two eye witnesses, who saw Valse die and helped bury him. That's plenty of proof, along with the report of the War Department. I'd believe it, even if you looked or acted or talked like Trib Valse—which you don't!"

Chapter 4

Armin Zachary was a man whom the years had conditioned against shock. We was like his cousin in some ways, unlike him in others. He had a comfortable fleshiness. His cheeks were ruddy, his eyes deep-set under heavy brows. When something disturbed him, he had schooled his face never to betray it.

In the case of Trib Valse, he had known, with a sort of resigned fatality, that sooner or later his cousin would turn up to trouble him again. That knowledge had come in the form of a new letter from the War Department, correcting the former announcement that Valse was dead. Zachary had read it without any outward show of emotion. For a moment his face had flushed with anger, and he had half risen to send for Marsh and Huff. Then he had sunk back again, and had carefully burned the letter, saying nothing.

Long before he had burned his bridges behind him. The Gun was his, now, to have and to hold, the first thing of any value that he'd ever managed to get hold of. And it would take a good man, he reflected grimly, to take it from him. A better man than Trib Valse.

Not that he underestimated his cousin. It was simply that he had made his plans, over the years. And he had stacked the deck so heavily in his own favor that it could tip but one way.

Trib Valse was back. Word had just been brought to him, and Valse himself would be along very soon now. That meant a fight, just as he had always known that it must.

He looked up as Valse pulled up before Lundeen's and tied his horse at the chewed hitching rail before it. From his window on the second floor, Zachary was able to study him unobserved for a moment. Even after the word which he had received, the change in Valse was shocking: the snowwhite hair, the lines of suffering in his face. Yet he noted that Valse still moved swiftly, purposefully, as a man his age would normally do.

Zachary was ready when the knock came at his door. He opened it and waited with polite interest on his face, all else carefully schooled out.

"Yes?" he asked.

"You don't need to put on a show, Armin," Valse told him shortly. "I know that you know me well enough."

"Should I? Zachary studied him carefully. "I don't usually forget faces, but I'm afraid you have the advantage of me."

"So you've forgotten the name of Valse," he jeered.

Zachary stared. Then he shook his head.

"You don't mean to claim that you're my cousin, Trib Valse," he protested.

Valse helped himself to a chair, unperturbed.

"You knew that I was on the way here to see you, of course," he said. Zachary admitted it.

"Marsh brought me word about you. I'll admit that I was curious. But even after what he said, I wasn't prepared. You look even less like my cousin than I'd supposed anybody would that claimed to be him."

"Do you think that you can get away with this, Armin—with stealing my ranch?" Valse asked tightly.

Zachary shrugged.

"I don't like that word," he said. "The Gun belongs to me, by right of inheritance. If my cousin was alive, it would be a different story. He's dead. And your attempt to impersonate him, if you'll pardon my bluntness, is a damned poor bit of faking."

Anger, wildness grew in Valse, but he fought it down. Always, ever since they had been boys together, Zachary had had that effect on him, the ability to stir him to unreasonable rage.

Zachary saw the flash of anger, and apprehension stirred in him. Not that he was afraid of Valse. But he knew Valse's rages, his determination.

"You come here and make a claim—what seems to me to be an outrageous claim. The sensible thing, it seems to me, is to put it up to a sort of jury of folks who used to know my cousin, whom you claim to be."

"Let's get on with it, then," he accepted briefly.

There was guarded hostility between them as they went down to the main floor. At one end of the bar, with chairs and tables behind it, Zachary turned to Valse with frigid politeness.

WOMAN, 46, AND FARMHAND HELD IN MURDER CASE

Honesdale, Pa., Jan. 6 (AP)—An 18-year-old Auburn-haired farmhand and a 46-year-old widow are held in Wayne county jail today charged with the shotgun slaying of the woman's husband last December 6.

The youth, Leo Cordy, pleaded guilty yesterday to the slaying of his employer, Maurice Lippert, 46. At a separate hearing before Justice of the Peace Norman C. Farnham the widow, Mrs. Bertina Lippert, pleaded innocent.

Both were ordered held without bail, however, after state police investigators testified Cordy and Mrs. Lippert had signed statements admitting "50-50" responsibility in Lippert's death.

Woman Was Investigator
State police said Cordy's statement described Mrs. Lippert as instigator of her husband's slaying, to

"Since you claim to be my cousin, you might suggest a few names of old-timers," he said.

Valse took the challenge promptly, beckoning to Lundeen himself, who, across the aisle, was just finishing a sale of a pair of boots to a cowboy.

"Come over here, Lundeen, if you can spare a little time," he requested. "You should know who I am—Trib Valse."

The news, of course, had spread by now. Lundeen, a tall, lanky man, with an overly long thatch of reddish hair and a friendly grin threw back his hair with a gesture and held out his hand.

"I've heard of you," he admitted. "And I did know Valse right well. If you are him, you've changed a plenty."

"You don't think he is Trib then?" Zachary challenged.

Lundeen shook his head. "Sure don't look it," he confessed.

"Though of course, the years can change a man."

Lundeen agreed readily enough to serve on a sort of jury on the question. Three others were called to join them, old-timers who happened to be in town. Stemple Bly was a ranch owner, a little, wiry, bald-headed man, Jack Elwood had been Lundeen's first clerk and man of all work, and still was. And Mike de Polo was a gambler, among the first to hit the country, and still here. He had a reputation as a squirehooter. All three had been good friends of Valse's in the old days.

eliminate an obstacle to her romance with young Cordy.

Before the hearings yesterday Cordy and state troopers visited the Lippert farm in nearby Aldenville. Police said Cordy showed them how he crouched behind a tool shed in the dark and blasted Lippert with a 12-gauge shotgun as the farmer was about to enter a milkhouse.

Lippert's death had been ruled accidental by Dr. Hugh Stevenson, deputy coroner. He said he had been told the shooting occurred in this manner:

Lippert, a milk pail in each hand, had tucked his shotgun under his arm hoping to get a shot at a deer he had sighted on the farm.

Police Not Satisfied
As the farmer was about to enter the milkhouse, he apparently stumbled, dropping the shotgun which fired a blast into the back of his head and shoulders.

State police, however, were not satisfied with that version of the shooting. They investigated. On Wednesday night they questioned Cordy for two hours. Finally, police reported, the youth broke off his insistent denials and cried:

"All right. I did it. I did it. She made me."

Mrs. Lippert, brought here from the farm, admitted she and the youth both were to blame and later signed a more detailed statement. District Attorney Ira R. Rutherford said.

US AMBASSADOR REACHES JAPAN

Tokyo, Jan. 6 (AP)—Roving U. S. Ambassador Philip C. Jessup arrived Thursday in Japan, first stop on an Asian survey trip that will take him to Formosa—new focal point of American controversy on Far Eastern policy.

The tall, lanky envoy said he will confer with General MacArthur on the matter of the big island. Formosa is the last stand bastion of Chiang Kai-shek's Chinese Nationalist government.

There is increasing Republican pressure in the United States for American action—armed or otherwise—to keep Formosa from falling to the Chinese Communists.

Jessup would not comment on reports that the State Department expects the island to be taken by the Reds who have overrun China's mainland. These reports have been attributed to a State Department memorandum of December 23 advising its spokesmen to put the soft pedal on Formosa's strategic importance.

A responsible source said yesterday this stand is "entirely contrary" to the viewpoint of the military command here.

BUS STRIKE IN READING
Reading, Pa., Jan. 6 (AP)—Thousands of persons were left standing on street corners in Reading and its suburbs this morning as the result of a strike which halted bus and street car operations. The International Association of Machinists went on strike at midnight, setting up a picket line at the car barns of the Reading Street Railway company. Bus and street car operators refused to cross the picket lines.

Two Big Planes Will Be Released

Camden, N. J., Jan. 6 (AP)—Two Constellation planes seized by the government 18 months ago are to be released Monday if their former owner posts $100,000 bond.

Judge Frank T. Lloyd, Jr., of the state Superior Court, indicated yesterday he will take such action at a hearing in either Camden or Atlantic City.

The jurist postponed final action after Attorney Harry Adler, representing Adolph W. Schwimmer of Bridgeport, Conn., said he was unable to raise the bond immediately.

Schwimmer was the owner of the planes at the time the government seized them on a charge they were en route to Palestine without an export license. Since then Schwimmer has sold the planes to the Jewish Agency for Palestine.

BATTLE MOUNTS BETWEEN "RED" ATHEISM AND CHRISTIANITY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

President Truman's "State of the Union" message to Congress is filled with references to the grace and power of God, to religious ideals, to freedom of worship and to the divine command that men love one another.

By strange chance the Moscow Journal of Science and Life gives what in effect (though not actually) is the communist answer to the President. The magazine publishes an article saying many people in the U.S.S.R. continue to believe in God, and calling for education of the masses in the spirit of atheism. The Moscow writer declares the struggle against religious prejudices is one of the forms of the struggle for communism.

There have been presented in succinct form from the pro and con of one of the fundamental points of conflict between communism and democracy. Indeed it may be that the outcome will pivot on this point of atheism versus religion.

The fight over this issue is daily becoming hotter.

I return to the question of religion again in my column not only because of its importance but because my mail from many parts of the country indicates deep interest in the subject. I get vigorous letters from both sides of the fence—from believers, and from dyed-in-the-wool atheists whose mildest language is: "Come, come, now Mac, no more of this bunk about religion."

The point of course is that aggressive dictatorships don't thrive on religion. As communism puts it, religion is the opiate of the masses. It was precisely for this reason that Hitler tried to destroy religion in Germany. Among the documents found by the Allied troops in Berlin was one which declared that Christianity was the greatest enemy of Nazism.

Intense Drive in Schools
Hitler concentrated his main effort on the children on the basis that "just as the twig is bent the tree's inclined." It's harder to change the beliefs of the grownups; you have to catch 'em young.

I saw a good deal of Germany just before the war, and the hold Hitler had on the young folk was amazing. It was more than that—it was terrifying to those who realized what the Fuehrer had in his evil mind.

Tacit recognition of the importance of working on the young people is seen in a remark in the science and life article. The writer said that even among the youth there can be found churchgoers in Russia. So communism hasn't reformed all the masses.

However, as I pointed out in a recent column, there is an organized offensive proceeding among the satellite countries of eastern Europe to eliminate religion. The drive centers on the children and its particularly intense in the schools.

Communism is building, not for today, but for a dozen years hence.

EX-EDITOR DIES

Waterbury, Conn., Jan. 6 (AP)—William Monroe Lathrop, at one time editor of the Carbondale, Pa., leader and news editor of the Williamsport Pa., Grit, is dead at 76. Lathrop, one of the owners of the Waterbury Republican from 1901 to 1910, died yesterday in Los Angeles, Calif., relatives here were notified.

FORMOSA ONLY PART OF WHOLE U.S. DILEMMA

By JAMES MARLOW
Washington, Jan. 6 (AP)—The Democratic-Republican dispute over the defense of Formosa goes deeper than just a political wrangle. It's part of the whole American dilemma in stopping Communism.

This government preaches a philosophy of "no imperialism," of political freedom for all people to choose their own government without outside interference.

At the same time the U. S. is in a deadly struggle with Communism. It's clear that if Communism, which has an aggressive philosophy, can spread unchecked, then in time America will be an island in a Communist world.

Two Courses
With its friends and allies turned into Communist enemies, the U. S. couldn't survive against the rest of the earth. So it has the problem of preventing that day's arrival. It could:

1. Use military force, march into a country threatened internally or externally by Communism, and set up its defenses there.

2. Or, as it has done in Western Europe and in Greece, it could send in economic aid or arms to help the government in power block Communism.

If it did the first, it could be accused of acting contrary to its professed philosophy of letting other peoples choose their own government. (On this one the U. S. could argue that, on the contrary, it was helping preserve political freedom in the country it defended with arms by keeping out the Communists.)

In the "Red" Now
If it did the second everywhere and every time there was a Communist threat, there'd be this problem: How long could the U. S. afford to subsidize the rest of the world without collapsing?

(The U. S. already is running into the red because of the money its spending on national defense and help for Europe. That's costing about $19,000,000,000 now.)

Former President Hoover and Senator Taft of Ohio, two top Republicans, said only the other day they thought this country should keep Formosa from falling into the Chinese Communists' hands, even if it meant using the U. S. Navy to do so.

Might Mean War

Yesterday, President Truman harpooned this idea by announcing a hands-off policy toward Formosa, an island off the China coast where Chiang Kai-shek and his Nationalist government, driven off the mainland by the Chinese Communists, have holed up for a last stand.

Eventually, it's expected the Communists will try to take Formosa.

If we sent naval forces there, it might discourage the Chinese Communists from crossing over—for the time being. When they gathered more strength they might try to take Formosa—possibly with the help of Russian bombers—even though that meant war with the U. S.

But—is the U. S. willing to go to war over Formosa? The President made it plain: No. At this moment the Russians may not feel ready for war. In a few years, if they can pile up atom bombs, they may be very ready.

The American Dilemma
So the U. S. may have only a few years—in which the Russians still are too weak for war—to take steps to stop the spread of Communism.

But what will it do if, between now and then, the Russian and Chinese Communists, by pressure

Emmitsburg

Emmitsburg—Guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Gillespie and family of near Emmitsburg included: Mr. and Mrs. Luther Gillespie and children, JoAnn and William, of Taneytown; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Blackburn and son, David; Cpl. Edward Collins, Harold Collins, Robert Collins, all of Baltimore; Mr. and Mrs. William Gillespie, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Rose and son, Raymond; Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Coleman and children, Marlene and Rodger, all of Sophia, W. Va.

Mr. and Mrs. William Amos of Taneytown, and Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Amos visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Baumgardner, Emmitsburg R. D., last evening.

Miss Mary Dee Stoudt of Baltimore, spent the New Year's week-end visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Stoudt of near Saint Anthony's.

The Study club of Saint Anthony's will meet on Sunday at 1:30 p. m., at the "redbrick" school house at Saint Anthony's.

Recently Mr. and Mrs. Brooke Wetzel and family and Mrs. Beulah Marshall and son, Earl, visited with Mrs. Nena Lively in Steelton.

REPORTS LOST DOG

Mrs. Clark Staley, 139 Hanover street, reported to borough police Thursday night that her dog, white with black spots and brown ears, had strayed from home or had been stolen.

Short of war, try to gobble up the rest of Asia: Indonesia, French Indo-China, Burma, India?

Will it pour in economic help? Or arms or troops or what? Without some kind of American help, those places certainly will be under great Communist pressure, externally or internally.

As more of the world goes Communist, the U. S. will have to act. But how? That's the American dilemma.

NEW HOUSING PLAN IS READY

Washington, Jan. 6 (AP)—A new administration housing program intended to construct thousands of new homes for families with "moderate income" is ready for congress. Senator Sparkman (D-Ala.), told a reporter today the legislation "is badly needed and will carry out Truman's promise to fill the gap in our present national housing program."

The new plan, bearing administration approval, could make between $2,000,000,000 and $2,250,000,000 available during the next two years as guarantees for loans to cooperative and non-profit groups providing housing for the "moderate income" class. Although the administration does not define "moderate income" Sparkman said congress would limit the new housing aid to persons "with incomes of from $2,000 up to $5,000, or perhaps more, a year."

Sparkman explained that loans or mortgages would be guaranteed by a proposed new government agency known as the National Mortgage Corporation for Housing Co-Operatives. He said this would be set up by use of up to $100,000,000 of treasury funds and $50,000,000 of funds provided by housing co-operatives and private individuals.

The corporation could guarantee up to 95 per cent of the value of the housing at low interest rates and with 50 years for repayment.

Kits have been put on the market to convert 10-inch television sets into a 16-inch.

AMERICAN BANKING IN ACTION

HOW MUCH FOR CLOTHES?

Americans are the best-dressed people on earth. They spend on the average about 14¢ out of each dollar of income for clothes and personal care. How much each individual spends depends, of course, on income and personal wants. But people who manage their money well have more funds for clothes and for other things they desire most. It's easier to make money go farther when you have a checking account. Your records tell you where the money goes, and you can control your spending. Why not start your account with us now?

Great Britain Grants Full Diplomatic Recognition To China Communists

IS FIRST MAJOR WESTERN POWER TO TAKE STEP

London, Jan. 6 (AP)—Great Britain granted full diplomatic recognition today to the Peiping government of Communist China.

Britain thus became the first major Western power to break relations with Chiang Kai-shek's hard-pressed Nationalist government and to recognize Mao Tze-tung's Red regime as the legal government of the 460,000,000 Chinese.

The long-anticipated move, taken primarily in an effort to protect Britain's billion-dollar investment in China, brought a split in Anglo-American foreign policy cooperation. U. S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson said in Washington yesterday the question of American recognition of the Chinese Communists was premature.

On "De Jure" Basis
The announcement by the Foreign Office said British recognition is on a "de jure" basis. That is, Britain accepts the Peiping "people's republic" as the government of China in law as well as in fact.

The Nationalist ambassador to London, Dr. Cheng Tien-hsi, was notified in advance last night that, as a result of the British action, he and other diplomatic representatives of Chiang Kai-shek are no longer recognized in London.

Britain was the fourth nation outside the Soviet orbit to recognize the Chinese Communist government. India and Pakistan, both members of the British commonwealth, and Burma already have taken that step.

Others To Follow
Other nations of Western Europe were expected to follow Britain's lead. In Oslo it was reported the Norwegian government probably would decide today on the question of recognition.

The British Foreign Office said it had formally advised Communist China's Minister of Foreign Affairs, Chou En-lai, of its desire to establish diplomatic relations.

The Foreign Office announcement said a not handed Chou En-lai by the British Consul-General in Peiping offered to exchange diplomatic representatives with the Peiping government.

The foreign office said this was the text of the note handed the communist foreign minister:

Text of Note
"Sir, I have the honor to inform Your Excellency that His Majesty's government in the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland, having completed their study of the situation resulting from the formation of the Central People's Majesty's embassy from Nanking to Peiping.

"(Signed) Ernest Bevin, His Britannic Majesty's principal Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs."

Wat It Does

1. Ranges her with Russia against continued Chinese Nationalist representation on the United Nations Security Council. India and Yugoslavia, also council members, have broken off relations with the Nationalist regime and recognized the Reds. The U. S. still backs the Nationalists as legal rulers of China. Other council members who have still to make up their minds on the question are France, Egypt, Ecuador, Cuba and Norway.

2. Gives her first chance of all the big western powers to expand her trade with China's 460,000,000 people—and also to inherit America's past share of China's foreign business.

3. Dampens British hopes that the U. S. might quickly back a new "Marshall Plan" to stop nearly a billion non-Chinese Asians going Red. Most British officials fear Congressional opposition to them and their ideas about the Far East will mount in the next few months. They think America's China policy has been caught up in domestic party politics. And they fear the U. S. won't be able to launch any new big aid program at least until after next November's elections.

Preliminary studies by the Smithsonian institution have shown that central Texas was long inhabited before the arrival of known Indian tribes.

SONS TESTIFY TO KILLING FATHER

Media, Jan. 6 (AP)—Two brothers testified they shot and killed their father after he had beaten their 52-year-old crippled mother. But, Nicholas D'Amore, 26, and his brother, John, 22, both of Philadelphia, denied they had planned the slaying on the night of November 20.

Te D'Amores told an all-women jury yesterday of their life of being beaten by their father and of seeing their mother beaten almost daily.

the father for things the children had or had not done.

Their stories were similar to earlier testimony told by their mother, Mrs. Concetta D'Amore.

The brothers testified the guns that killed their father, Benjamin F. D'Amore, a Marple township nurseryman, were fired accidentally. The brothers said they were nervous and upset over their mother's condition.

Mrs. D'Amore testified that on the night of the slaying her husband gave her a terrific beating because she had not washed and darned a pair of socks.

Fugitives Hitch Ride With Sheriff

Warren, Pa., Jan. 6 (AP)—Three men were looting a summer cottage at Enterprise Wednesday. Sheriff L. E. Linder and state police surprised the burglars and captured one of them.

Linder drove back to town with the prisoner. Two hitchhikers stepped out of the bushes, flagged him down.

The sheriff was happy to give them a ride all the way into town. They were the missing housebreakers.

EBERHARTER'S
NAME OMITTED

Washington, Jan. 6 (P)—Observers were speculating today over the possibility Rep. Eberharter (D-Pa.) will not be nominated again for a federal judgeship.

The name of Eberharter — denounced as "unfit" last year by an American Bar association spokesman — was omitted from a list of nominations sent to the Senate yesterday by President Truman.

Asked about the omission, Eberharter said he would not make any comment until he had more time to think matters over. He indicated, however, he might take the issue right to the White House.

Senator Myers (D-Pa.), recommended Eberharter originally for the nomination to fill a western Pennsylvania vacancy caused by the retirement of Judge R. M. Gibson, a Republican now dead. Yesterday, Senator Myers had no comment to make.

The omission of Eberharter's name was far from a surprise to many who have followed the controversial case. Some in a position to know indicated some time ago they considered the nomination dead and that they hoped Eberharter would withdraw his name to prevent any embarrassment.

Three Pennsylvania judges were nominated yesterday by the President. The three—all now serving under recess appointments — are

SENATE OPENS
FIGHT ON OLEO

Washington, Jan. 6 (P)—Senators fighting a House-passed bill to repeal federal oleomargarine taxes have opened their drive to ban the yellow product from interstate commerce.

With Senator Gillette (D-Iowa) as their lead-off speaker, opponents of the repeal legislation hoped to rally support for a substitute that would permit yellow oleomargarine to be sold only in a state where it is manufactured.

Gillette and Senator Wiley (R-Wis.) are the chief authors of the proposal but 23 other senators are listed as co-sponsors.

Like the House bill, it would wipe out the present federal taxes on oleomargarine. These include a 10-cents-a-pound tax on yellow colored margarine, a one-quarter cent a pound levy on the uncolored variety.

Thomas J. Clary, Philadelphia, and Allan K. Grim, Reading, both of the eastern district, and Owen M. Burns, Erie, of the western district.

Conservation Work
Urged By Gov. Duff

New York, Jan. 6 (P)—The United States has failed to stop an "incredible destruction" of its natural resources, says Pennsylvania's Governor James H. Duff.

Speaking last night at a dinner sponsored by the American Association of Nursemen, Gov. Duff said a nationwide conservation program must be carried out if this country "is to develop in the future as it has in the past."

"Unless we are careful," he said, "one of the legacies we are going to give our followers is a great burden of death without, at the same time, making restoration of the things in our natural resources that must be restored."

Using water as an example of such neglected resources, Duff said: "Tonight it is necessary in this magnificent city to ask for a glass of water," a reference to the current policy in New York hotels of serving water with meals only when requested.

Philadelphia, Jan. 6 (P)—The state Supreme Court has been asked to decide whether strip mining of surface or crop coal is permissible under an 1855 deed concerning mineral rights. The high court was handed the case recently in appeal brought by Attorney Richard Henry Klein of Sunbury, Pa., on behalf of Donald E. Fisher.

and occupational taxes on manufacturers, wholesalers and retailers.

The Senate battle got underway Wednesday with Senator Pulbright (D-Ark.) calling the proposed substitute "thoroughly mischievous."

It "would disrupt the entire margarine industry and would sharply raise costs to consumers," he said.

Wiley, in turn, said the House bill represents "an attack by one segment of the economy on another."

He told a reporter that margarine manufacturers "are holding prices in check until they get a monopoly." He added that with "cutrate prices" they could put butter out of business and then later raise prices.

News From Littlestown

DR. SCHAEFFER
OPENS MISSION
SERIES SUNDAY

The annual preaching mission sponsored by the Littlestown Ministerium will be conducted in St. Paul's Lutheran church beginning Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock and continuing nightly at the same hour until January 13, inclusive. Guest preacher will be the Rev. Dr. Charles E. Schaeffer, Philadelphia, secretary emeritus of the Home Mission Board of the Reformed church in the U.S.

Previously, the local ministers conducted this mission themselves, but for 1947 it was decided to secure an outstanding guest speaker for the services. It was decided to hold all services in St. Paul's church, the largest auditorium in the community. The Rev. Dr. Allen S. Meek, now president of the Evangelical and Reformed church at Lancaster, was secured as the speaker. In 1948, the Rev. Dr. Frederick K. Stamm, Chicago, was the guest speaker and in 1949 the Rev. Dr. Carl C. Rasmussen, professor of systematic theology in the Gettysburg seminary, conducted the mission.

This year's speaker is very well known in Gettysburg and Littlestown. He conducted the opening services on April 27, 1947 of the 200th anniversary celebration in Christ Reformed church, near Littlestown, and has on numerous occasions spoken in Gettysburg.

Gives Sermon Themes
Dr. Schaeffer is a native of Fleetwood, Berks county, Pa. He received his bachelor of arts degree at Franklin and Marshall college and is a graduate of the Reformed seminary at Lancaster. He received a doctor of divinity degree from Heidelberg university and a doctor of Theology degree from the university of Hungary. While in the active pastorate, he served the Macungie-Emmaus charge; Ascension Reformed church, Norristown; and St. Mark's Reformed church, Reading. In 1908, he became general secretary of the Board of Home Missions and served until February 1, 1941 when he was made secretary emeritus. For 40 years, Dr. Schaeffer was also a department editor of the Reformed church Messenger. He served for three years as president of General Synod of the Reformed church.

Dr. Schaeffer has announced the following sermon themes: Sunday: "The Decisive Battles of Christ" (or Coming to Grips with the Aims of Life); Monday: "What Must I Do to Inherit Eternal Life?" (Facing the Supreme Question); Tuesday: "Peace of Soul" (borrowing the phrase from Monsignor Sheen); Wednesday: "Now Concerning Marriage" (The Christian Home); Thursday: "The Coming Religious Revival" (The Great Evangelistic Advance); and Friday: "The Great Invitation" (Come).

The public is invited to attend all of these services and also to meet Dr. Schaeffer at the close of the service. Special music has been arranged for each service, and the ministers of the community will conduct the services.

News Items From Littlestown

George M. Zerfing Opens New Hardware Store At Taneytown

George M. Zerfing, Gettysburg, who has operated a hardware store on Center Square since January 1, 1928, and one at Littlestown since January 1, 1945, this week added a third store with the purchase of the former Garner's hardware store, 7 York street, Taneytown.

The store is now open for business as the George M. Zerfing hardware store. James S. Reaver, who is general manager of all three stores, is associated in business with Mr. Zerfing in the Littlestown and Taneytown stores.

Leonard Kershner, Manager
Leonard Kershner is the new manager of the Taneytown store. Plus Hemler, who has been a clerk in the store for more than 25 years, will be retained in that position. The business was taken over from the former owner on January 2.

Extensive interior changes are being made and others are planned later, including new fixtures and new lighting.

"Through having a third store, and the volume of business we expect to enjoy, we can buy more advantageously, and thus pass on our savings to our customers," Mr. Zerfing said.

Mr. Reaver added that the firm now is able to buy many items carried in stock for all three stores by truckload or car load, which, he said, means lower prices and savings to the public.

The three stores now have 14 employees, nine at Gettysburg, three at Littlestown and two at the new store.

The Taneytown store, like the Gettysburg and Littlestown stores, will carry a complete line of Sherwin-Williams paints; complete lines of floor and furniture finishes; nationally advertised brands of hardware, including Disston, Stanley, Lockwood, Corbin and Union Hardware; window glass, automobile safety glass and furniture tops. Scheil's quality seeds; guns and ammunition, fishing tackle galvanized ware, cutlery, electrical products.

Also Delta, Walker-Turner, Porter Cable and Black and Decker drills, saws and other power tools; nail and wire and wire products; galvanized and roll roofing, builders' supplies and a wide variety of other hardware items.

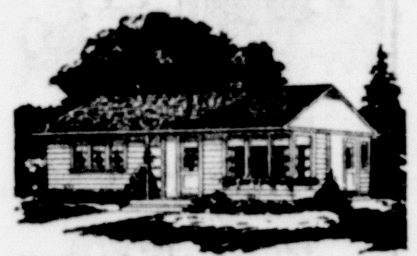

The three stores also have rental equipment which includes sanders, edgers and polishers for floors and belt and vibrator sanders for furniture and house trim.

WOMEN'S GUILD HOLDS MEETING

The January meeting of the Women's Guild of Christ Reformed church, near town, was held Wednesday evening at the church. Mrs. Orville C. Sentz presented the topic for the evening, which was "Tracing a New Pattern." Mrs. Oliver Sentz read a scripture lesson. A meditation written by Dr. Edwin McNeill Poter was read by Mrs. Mervin L. Myers.

"Thine Is the Glory, Risen, Conquering Son" is the theme hymn of the guild for 1950. It was also a favorite of the Amsterdam assembly. This hymn was sung as a duet at the meeting by Mrs. LeRoy W. Berwager and Mrs. Laverne Mumert, with Mrs. Berwager also serving as the accompanist. Discussions on the topic were given by Mrs. Sentz and Mrs. John C. Brumbach. Business was conducted by the president, Mrs. Ralph I. Unger. Mrs. Clair R. Markle presented the secretary's report and Mrs. Harry E. Bair gave the treasurer's report. A special offering report was given by Mrs. Stanley R. Sell. The challenge for 1950 was ordered paid. The new packets were distributed and the following secretaries were appointed for the year by the president: Education, Mrs. Orville C. Sentz; membership, Mrs. Edgar W. Berwager; stewardship, Mrs. LeRoy Garret; spiritual life, Mrs. LeRoy W. Berwager; missionary, Mrs. Harvey W. Schwartz; thank offering, Mrs. Harry C. Wildasin; Girls' Guild, Mrs. Brumbach; social service, Mrs. Oliver Sentz; Christian citizenship, Mrs. Harold E. Shoemaker; special, Mrs. Stanley R. Sell; birthday, Mrs. Mervin L. Myers; and pianist, Mrs. Leroy W. Berwager.

The next meeting will be held at the church Wednesday, February 1, when the leader will be Mrs. John C. Brumbach. The meeting closed with prayer.

Stewart N. Lons, Mrs. Francis Parto, Mrs. Thomas Coleman, Mrs. Mary O'Brien and Mrs. John Collins.

TO SHOW PICTURES

There will be a special service held and pictures from the east to west coast will be shown, at the St. James Reformed church, along the Harney road, on Sunday evening, January 15, at 7:30 o'clock. The public is invited to attend.

No wonder they're calling them "TOP CHOICE FOR 'FIFTY'"

They're greater in power—higher in compression—a standout in styling—dreams to drive—and now there's a Buick beauty for 1950 to fit practically any budget

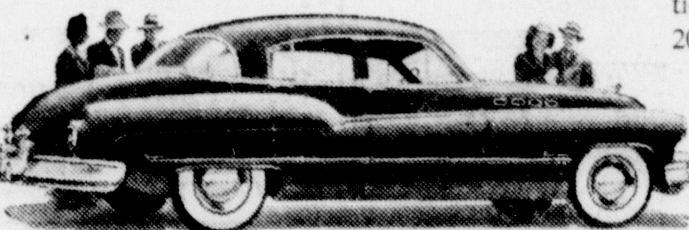

No, we just couldn't hold back the whole big Buick line for 1950.

They're too good-looking—too much fun to drive—too jam-packed with stepped-up, higher-compression, ready-to-ramble power—to be kept under cover.

So maybe you've already seen some 1950 Buicks on the highway.

Maybe you've noticed the extra "git up and travel" they have—glanced the wide, curving windshields (one piece in most models)—noted, approvingly, that the typical Buick taper is now found in all Buick fenders.

Maybe you've even heard some things...

LOTS OF LUGGAGE SPACE, plus a high-fashion rear-end treatment, graces the Buick tourback Sedan models for 1950. This is the ROADMASTER, and above is the SUPER version of this much-wanted 4-door, 6-passenger Sedan.

Phone your BUICK dealer for a demonstration—Right Now!

That there are more than a dozen-and-a-half models to choose from. That there are three power plants in the Buick line—all of higher compression, all stepped up in power.

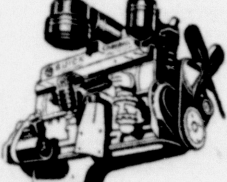

That all models are big and roomy inside—some rear seats are better than a foot wider than before!—yet in every instance, shorter over-all, so easier to handle, park and garage.

Above all, maybe you've heard of exciting news on price...

That Dynaflo Drive, for instance—standard on ROADMASTER models, optional on all others—now costs 20% less than on 1949 models.

POWER NEWS WITH A REAL PUNCH!

Here's just one part of Buick's three-way power story for 1950—the brand-new F-263 valve-in-head straight-eight. Packing a wallop that makes the SUPER a stand-out performer of the season, here is still higher compression and still greater power in no greater over-all size. You'll get this new engine on all SUPER models, in 124 hp with Synchro-Mesh transmission, 128 hp with Dynaflo Drive.*

*Standard on ROADMASTER, optional extra cost on SUPER and SPECIAL models.

That in the full line—SPECIAL, SUPER and ROADMASTER series—there is a Buick to fit practically every budget above the very lowest!

Pictured above is the 1950 SUPER 4-door Sedan, one of the new Buick body types for 1950. At your Buick dealer's are more actual models, the whole story on others.

Hadn't you better see him—right now—and see if you, too, don't find Buick "top choice for 1950"?
